

2.5.1 Introduction

We've made several big changes to our webpage over the last few lessons. We built a fairly complicated grid, adjusted the layout to be more flexible, and added media queries to ensure true mobile compatibility.

Even though these were all super important aspects to take care of, the Run Buddy marketing team still wants to see the landing page stand out more visually. This is the reason behind the "CSS enhancements and optimizations" issue that we created earlier.
